

The Cambridge teenagers' life is upside down

In one day she would be twenty and her steadfast and predictable Holy Roller Crying Bible shouting sister is marrying an influential waterman out of fishing creek Maryland and wants her to help with planning the wedding.

The Cambridge teenagers' life as a silly fun loving unorthodox girl has not prepared her for handling the fact that her sister was marrying a man she loved more than she loved her sister. The fact is she hated her sister.

The waterman knows a ship wreck when he sees one. The Cambridge teenager was going to be trouble. But since he was marrying her sister, he has no choice but to deal with her or his wedding will be big news in the river town of Cambridge for all the wrong reasons. Keeping his ex- lover happy would be a whole lot easier if she didn't drive him crazy both in and out of his bedroom.

Barry Wyatt Jr.